(BULLETIN)

The Attacks Tigers are ready for what is expected to be the season's toughest spot when they tackle Elwood, a white high school at Manual field Saturday at 2:15. A large delegation of, Elwood rooters will be on hand.

J. Rankin Wins the Game with a Place Kick; Large Crowd Braves the Elements To See Contest. (LEE A. JOHNSON)

Before a large crowd, that braved the elements wrapped in heavy blankets and gloves, a great Tiger eleven went down in defeat on a windswept gridiron. The interest in the Tiger team is increasing with each game, a bus load of Centralites accompanied their warriors up here to cheer them on to victory. The hand added more warmth and enthusiasm to the game with peppy music between halves.

Cheers went up from both sections as each team came out on the field and ran through singnals. Louisville outwitted Attacks.

First Quarter: Attacks kicked off to Louisville on their 35 yard line. The ball was returned 5 yards to the Central 40 yard line. Attacks held and Phelps got off a beautiful punt to the Attacks 30 yard stripe. Attacks was offside on the play and was penalized. Attacks line failed to stop the charging Central forwards and Brown was smothered with no gain. A well kicked ball put Attacks out of immediate danger when White star end went down to stop the receiver in his tracks. Louisville had the boys baffled with their double shift, and on numerous times both teams were offside. After a few plays, Coward gained 60 yards. Louisville kicked from their 48 yard line to Attacks, the ball was returned 10 yards. Attacks was in possession of the ball the quarter ended.

Second Quarter: Louisville rushed Attacks from midfield to their 3 yard line with the aid of a penalty. The stands went into an uproar. Attacks supporters yelling hold them. And the Louisville crowd hollering "We want a Touch Down."

Attacks held with the aid of a penalty when in excitement, Louisville had two men in motion. When Louisville lost the ball, Attacks punted out of danger. Central was nailed behind the line of scrimmage when Liggins, back through Louisville kicked to Attacks. The ball was advanced 8 yards. On the first play Wood gained 5 yards and 3 on the next. Clark made a first down with a 3 yard gain. Brown made 8 yards and Attacks was penalized. The half ended the goalward march of the Tigers. There was a bit of fumbling in that quarter when Ward went in for Cornett. Score: Central 0, Attacks 0.

Central kicked off to Attacks to their 20 yard line and held. Two thrusts at the Central line yielded 4 yards. Attacks attempted a kick but the forward wall shifted through the Tiger line to block the kick. The Centralites were pepped up over this break, and charged to the Tiger 5 yard line. The crowds began to yell again for them to come through. The pile driving full back Carroll of Central drove over the touchdown and sent Central into the lead 6 to 0. J. Rankins a sub back kicked from placement a beautiful spinning ball between the uprights to bring the score to Central 7, Attacks 0. Louisville kicked off to Attacks, the ball was brought back 7 yards. Cornett went in for Wood. T. Martin for Knox. After making another first down, Attacks got off a long punt and Daniels made a good tackle that held Central in their own territory. Attacks recovered a fumble when Liggins crashed through the Central line. Brown, Clark, and Cornett opened up an offensive drive and lacking 3 yards for a first down or 8 yards for a touchdown, Clark drove completely through the Central for a touchdown. Fans began to yell the Tigers to tie the score, but Central held and the attempt to plunge for the point failed. Score Attacks 6, Central 7.

Attacks kicked off to Louisville, a group of subs went into the game some failing to report and Louisville was penalized 10 yards. Both teams attempted passes in order to increase the score, one. Attacks pass was intercepted, Louisville drew several penalties one player was sent from the game because of improper conduct, another caused his team a 15 yard

INDIANA STATE DOWNS CENTRAL NORMAL

In defeating Central Normal, another team had a race man starring. May, a guard, was given an honorable mention in Blaine Patton's column last Monday in the Indianapolis Star.

BABB AND LYONS GIVEN REST

Well after Hayes shook up his line and backfield, Babb was up here Saturday, and Lyons remained in Bloomington. Well it was for the good of the boys. They were not needed to defeat Mississippi, a mediocre football team. Too, there are "certain" principles involved in the reception of southern "Gentlemen" that must be recognized, in which according to tradition Negroes do not figure. So both Lyons and Babb will be in good physical condition for Michigan Saturday.

THOROUGHBREDS MAR KNOXVILLE HOME COMING

By WALTER BEAN

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Coach Kean's Kentucky "Wonder Team" celebrated Knoxville today by "whitewashing" the Bulldogs 14 to 0, Saturday.

Kentucky gave another impressive demonstration of terrific power in bowling over the outclassed Knoxville eleven. The Green and Gold team preserved their hope of conference honors.

For Kentucky Hardin and Miller gave outstanding performances, each scoring as results of passes. For Knoxville each player played determined football, but was no match for Kean's 1932 "Wonder Team."

Kean's well trained grid machine, which so far has clean slate will meet Louisville Municipal College Saturday, Nov. 5.

The Line up:

Knoxville 0. Kentucky 14.

Yankee Star is Club Guest

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Vernon "Lefty" Gomez was guest of honor at the Harlem Ace Club dance Tuesday night, when over twenty-four hundred persons jammed the Renaissance Casino to hear Will Osborne and his original radio band. The crowd cheered Gomez and rushed closer to the band stand to get a good look at the bashful youngster. Gomez spoke and told the crowd he appreciated their loyalty and hoped to win many games next season. Mr. Frank E. Mason, Broadcasting company was invited, but could not attend and sent his regrets. This was Harlem's biggest affair since the depression.

TIGER FOX'S HAND MENDS

According to word from Tiger Fox's handlers, the state champ has been "taking things easy" in Springfield, Mo., where he has relatives.

Fox injured a finger on his right hand in the Christy fight in Terre Haute recently only to fulfill a previously made engagement one week late with Maxie Rosenbloom in Dayton. He came out of this with a broken finger and has been carrying his hand in a cast since. His hand is said to be mending nicely.

"BROWN SKINS" OPEN

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 4.—(ANP)—With a flock of rubber legged tap dancers, a pair of satchel mouthed comedians, a real honest-to-goodness coon-south blues singer, the right sort of ingenue, who can really dance, and that celebrated group of chorus gals, widely billed as the Brownskin Models, Irving C. Miller slipped into the Lincoln theater here, and scored a signal success in his first appearance here.

"WOMEN IN SING SING"

Folk, you don't have to pay any attention to the above title. It's just this: Warner Brothers First National Studio is filming a prison yarn about female convicts, they'll probably change the title of the thing to a number.

OPEN "ALABAMA"

BILL Heflin, well known Avenue Button-holder, and Rob Spikes, prominent songwriter, opened the "Club Alabama," formerly the Apex club, on the Nile of All-Hallow'een.

COMPLETES "FU MANCHU"

Although director Chas. Brobin has Boris Karloff, starring in the title role in "Dr. Fu Manchu," he also has two ebony hired actors appearing in some high spots. Curtis Nero, who has a cast part in the "Tarzan" series and "Congo," appears in the current Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, with Floyd Shackleford, also colored.

USE 150 EXTRAS

F. Shackleford, another of those old timers in this movie game, who has been idle some time, returned to the screen. "Shackleford" has been given a part in "Roar of the Jungle," for Burton King Co. 150 Negro extras were used last week as natives, in this current flicker.

SEVENTY-FIVE IN CAST

Characteristic of all world Premier screen offerings in Hollywood, with the added Sid Grauman flare for the magnificent, a cast of 75 brilliantly costumes Negro players has been assembled under direction of Earl Dancer. This group includes 56 choristers, 16 chorines, and three principals. Etta G. Moten, former star of this year's Broadway success, "Zombie," is the star of this magnificent stage setting, with its matchless background, for a perfect African opera.

UNIVERSAL CALLS EXTRAS

Under the able direction of Ernest Leamlie, the film "Nagana" is rapidly nearing completion at the Universal Studio.

Lincoln Falls Before Attack of Roosevelt

GARY, Nov. 4.—(Special) Roosevelt of Gary beat Lincoln of Evansville here Saturday by a score of 33 to 0. Coach Cooke's gridgers were too much for Coach Niles' Lions. The first half ended 6 to 0, in favor of Gary, but the second half saw Lincoln on the defensive practically all the time. It was a rout.

ROOSEVELT TO PLAY PULASKI

Saturday on Armory Field the Roosevelt Panthers will furnish the opposition for Coach Lane's Eagles of East Pulaski. These two teams met once this year and Coach Cooke's Panthers were successful in walking off the field with the long end of a 9-6 score. The two schools play two games each year, one a Roosevelt home game and one an East Pulaski home game. To date the Pulaski Eagles have played three games, winning one and losing two while the Panthers have played three and won three.

In last Saturday's game against Evansville, the Panthers appeared to have hit their stride and differed in good fashion, winning 38 to 0. If they come back this Saturday with the same spirit and team work, East Pulaski will probably be in for a second trimming. Saturday's game will be the last appearance of the Panthers at home and will be the last time that Snowden, H. Williams, L. Williams, Atkins, Johnson, Crawford, and Captain Howard Hill will be seen in action by local fandom as these boys are playing their senior year of football.

Roosevelt will take the field Saturday seeking their tenth straight win since their defeat by East Pulaski in '31 and their fourth straight for this season.

Mrs. Whitfield, of National Girl Training School Gets Big Reception

That the Negro Baptists of this country have a rare and prodigious personality in Mrs. E. E. Whitfield, missionary representative of the National training school for girls in Washington, D. Mrs. Whitfield, who is a product of Gaudeloupe college of Texas Northfield Summer school Massachusetts, and has studied at other schools.

It was said or her by speakers at the local church program in her honor that there are only a few women in the whole country who can present a message in stronger and a more appealing form than Mrs. Whitfield.

CRIMINAL IMPUDENCE

Charges alleging mistreatment of colored laborers on Federal flood control contracts were being mistreated by private contractors along the lower Mississippi River will be investigated by order of President Hoover.

A special committee appointed for the purpose consists of Dr. Robert R. Moton, president of Tuskegee Institute; Judge James A. Cobb, of Washington, D. C.; and Eugene Knicker Jones, executive secretary of the Urban League, New York City.

A White House announcement of the appointment credited Mr. Hoover with the statement that he had asked the committee "to make a thorough and impartial inquiry as promptly as possible."

Some of the private contractors on the government works on the lower Mississippi are allegedly "paying unreasonably low wages to Negro employees, overcharging" the latter "at the contractors commissaries and keeping the colored workers camps in very unsanitary conditions."

The private contractors, we are told, have even gone so far as to resort to violence in the treatment of the men. The system, which is virtual slavery, has aroused the just indignation of citizens throughout the country. If found to be true, the iron hand of the Federal government should be brought down with all its force upon those guilty of such rank encroachment upon the rights of the victims. Nothing short of a punishment, including cancellation of their contracts and imprisonment should be the portion for individuals guilty of the criminal impudence of using United States funds to promote any such slave driving schemes as are attributed to the contractors in question. In the meantime we shall await with a high degree of Natural interest the report of the committee appointed to inquire into the disgrace.

If the charges are true, they should be exposed to the full gaze of an indignant people.

The character of the personnel of the special investigation committee is such that we can depend upon it to do its full duty; call a spade a spade.

Perhaps the inquiry will lead to a definite discontinuance of the alleged disgrace; at least we hope so.

THE NEXT ADMINISTRATION

With approach of the climax of the political campaign controversies in and out of all party camps are waxing more and more eloquent around the many issues involved. In spite of criticisms being aimed at all party planks, the average citizen is not unmindful of the fact that there is good in both programs.

The air is charged with pre-election predictions as to who will be the next chief executive of the United States. That is not in the least strange. It is quite natural in view of the high significance of the office.

Much is being said by campaign speakers on all sides of the political fence about government economy, prohibition, fiscal affairs, the tariff, farm relief and tax reduction. These issues, in our opinion, are the most important among the many upon which the campaign is being fought. They are problems of pressing importance to the people. The question is how and when will they be solved. It will be up to the incoming administration to find a way out, and we honestly hope it does find a way out of the dilemma.

We are strongly of the opinion that of all the suggested administrative adjustments that involving tax reduction would be hailed by America's tax payers as the greatest triumph in years. But we fail to see how it could be possible to reduce taxes unless a reduction in the cost of government is likewise effected. It is to be hoped the next administration will lose no time in finding some relief for the overtaxed people. Find a way to lift that burden from the backs of the peoples.

The farmer is, and has always been a pivotal cog in the wheels of American progress. Yet the farmer upon whom 120,000,000 Americans depend for their daily bread, is one of the most completely forgotten of all the nation's wealth contributors. Something must be done for the farmers in the way of relief. Citizens are of the opinion that our foreign trade should be encouraged; that, at least, it should not be discouraged. This theory is very correctly based on the fact that to encourage foreign trade will be to provide a greater market for our farmers and help materially to bring back prosperity. A drastic revision of the tariff will be necessary however, before attempting to build up the country's foreign business. That also will be up to the new administration to decide. The long controverted question of prohibition should be disposed of in one or the other. For as long as politicians wrangle over it, bootleggers and their puppy liquor dealers will continue to rob the government of millions of dollars that should be in Uncle Sam's coffers. One unmistakable fact faces us: the law is totally unenforceable in its present form. Our fiscal affairs are not in as healthy a condition as they should be. It will devolve upon the next administration to effect needed improvements in the fiscal department of the nation. This, however, is out of the question during the present period of industrial uncertainty and economic demoralization.

And so, recognizing all these things we urge that steps be taken at the earliest possible time to put our national house in order. It will be an inseparable duty of the next White House incumbent to solve the problems, and solve them right. He will be expected to find a cure for the ills which have been eating out the very vitals of America in the last three years. Let us hope he will be found equal to the job; capable of tackling the big task with a die-hard determination to succeed.

FLORIDA FLOGGING GANG

And now, an entirely new organization of terror has bobbed up in the southland. This time, in the State of Florida. Its chief function, we understand, is to flog other citizens who intentionally or otherwise incur the disfavor of the group. And from every indication, this new outfit of self-assumed authority is no respecter of race, creed or color. Men and women, Negroes and whites in assertedly approximately equal numbers have already been subjected to beatings attributed to the floggers. The membership personnel of the organized gang, which bears a close resemblance in principles to the once notorious, but now defunct Ku Klux Klan, is composed of an element of Florida toughest ruffians, according to press dispatches.

Assigned reasons for attack includes charges of bootlegging, and holding a white man's job. White people are flogged if found living in Negro districts.

The most recent floggings by the new terror outfit included five white women, two white men and five Negroes, we are told.

Other Editorial Comment

WE BEG TO DIFFER—MR. DEPRIEST

They tell us that Oscar DePriest is a "politician," and that as such a great deal of allowance is made for any wild statement he might make or should he misquote figures or misstate facts. All of that is thrown in to help make a good politician. Accepting all of this as a part of the game, there still remains in DePriest's address at the Peoples Finance auditorium Monday night with which we not only beg to but sharply differ, and that is his denouncing and lambasting the men and women of his race who are of a different political faith.

Ordinarily, we would make no comment upon this, but DePriest knows, or at least he should know, that the Negro has just as much right as a citizen to cast his vote for any individual or party for whom he sees fit as any other citizen. He, like many others, seems to not realize that the colored people in this country are fighting to hold their places. In a Democratic form of government like this ours, different political parties are essential to good government, and, therefore, if we are to be good citizens, we should take part in whatever parties we may elect. We also hold that the day has passed when we, as a race, "belong" to any party.

Political battles should be fought out on political issues. If one's political issues are weak, that is no reason for him to attempt to make up for that weakness by abusing someone else. This is especially applicable to the colored people of this country. Lambasting, denouncing and abusing each other doesn't help the individual who does not do it help the race. Of course, there may be those who think that by so doing they are making themselves important with certain bosses, but just a little thought on this subject will instantly show that this is playing game in the wrong way.

We are told that this, the coming election, is very important. This, we think, is true. In fact, we know that it is true. We are supporting Hoover-Curtis, our reason being that there is too much South too close to the head of the Democratic national ticket. In taking this position, we do not assume that all of our brethren will see and think as we do. With them, we have no quarrel. For them, we have no abuse. As a group, we will get little out for our share regardless as to whom is elected. So far as white people are concerned, the political issues are merely the Outs fighting to get in and the Ins fighting to stay in. As a whole, it will make a very little difference to the white people of the country as to whom is elected, but the difference there as to who will affect the colored people we cannot forget. We must not forget that there is danger of there being too much South in the White House. Therefore, we must think and act and act and think.

CRUISING 'ROUND

BL LEE JAY MARTIN

Ideals and opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer, and are presented without regard to their agreement or disagreement with the editorial policy of The Indianapolis Recorder—The Editor.

It is almost over. Next Tuesday those who vote will select a national leader for themselves and those who do not vote, among the latter will be found the greatest complainers, but those who do not are beginning to understand that they themselves are concerned about governmental affairs. Not many now days with any degree of intelligence say, "I'm not concerned about politics." "The big fellows will run the country, matters not who is elected."

The Primary election and the depression have brought to every home and fire side the knowledge that the government local and national do concern them, and what concerns them, they should be concerned about. Thus there is an even widening knowledge of the government and a greater realization of its effects upon all citizens.

Due to the stress laid upon the necessity of the farmer being helped and that we cannot expect business recovery until the farmer is able to make a profit on his crops, we may ponder the fact that only one farmer has been president of the country and then only for one month. Washington and Jefferson, were planters, meaning Plantation owners. Thus it appears that this powerful but scattered group, until recently has been the prey of those who did not care very much about their welfare except around election time. But the twenty lawyers who became presidents, no doubt know that the only profit on farm profits, otherwise if we were and by protecting industry and its workmen it could best guarantee farm profits, otherwise if we were all farmers, from whence would come farm profits.

And I am also certain that the two public officials, the two soldiers, the one educator, the one editor, the one tailor, who became presidents, had about the same general idea. It appears the one engineer, also has the same idea. In fact the farmer and everyone has this same general idea about farm profits.

Although it is common knowledge, nevertheless, at this time it is interesting to note that five states have furnished twenty-three of our thirty-one presidents, and only twelve states have had the honor of having one of their native sons run the affairs of the country, New York and Ohio leading with six each; Virginia, five; Tennessee and Massachusetts, three each; Illinois, two; Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, New Jersey, California, Indiana, and Louisiana, one each.

In this election no state without such an honor will have any chance the honor will go to a state that has had such an honor. The big question will be decided next Tuesday as to which of the previously honored states will receive additional honors. The President was here last week and made a most convincing speech as far as this campaign is concerned, with one exception, he evidently became confused on his "crash dates". The people of the city gave him a cordial welcome and a real Hoosier ovation at Butler field house. This will be an everlasting credit to the many smiling miles of "Hoosier Hospitality." Instead of organizing a discourteous and reprehensible greeting, the Democrats used their valuable radio time appealing and advising all, to give the President a courteous reception. This gentlemanly advice and service to the city and state, should remove any doubt as to the high calibre of those heading the Democratic local organization.

On the other hand Governor Ritchie was recorded a reception unparalleled by anything I have seen. Thousands in the most colorful parade of modern politics, passed the Governor's residence coming stand and thousands kept coming in seemingly a kind of ending line, floats of the campaign, signs of every imaginable political phrase, all decent, costumes, from Washington's time, to an ala Jimmy Walker, from the northwest lumber camps; to the cane fields of Louisiana; lights of bygone days, red lights, white lights, green lights, blue lights, small lights, lights from natural stars, while and aeroplanes made man made stars from streaks of floating light, music of every note and key drum corps, callopes, washboard bands, string bands, strange bands, brass bands, out-of-town bands, out-of-tune bands and parking bands; noise, impossible to name them all, hand clapping, cheers, yells, bells, horns, richets, cannons and aerial bombs. All this going on, while the thirty thousands march, drove and rode in this never to be forgotten political demonstration.

Thus Republicans and Democrats alike forgot their politics when the "good" name of Indiana is at stake. They will fight each other, but they will not fight or disgrace their state.

After we have done all in our power to elect our respective candidates, gave our time and money to those we favor, after the polls are close, after the election officials have announced who have won, who have lost, remember that those who are announced as winners will be the servants of all the people, and will need the co-operation of all the people to bring about better times.

The Honorable Forrest W. Littlejohn, Democratic chairman of our group in Marion County, and the Hon. F. B. Ransom, port forth very convincing arguments for the support of their tickets, and bring out in bold relief the reasons why we should not support the opposite party. These men are sincere, and intelligent as they are, must know whereof they speak. Members of the opposite party equally intelligent and sincere, know whereof they speak, thus hearing ably from both sides, we should be able to cast an intelligent vote, and both or all parties want persons to vote intelligently.

It was way out in the southern end of town, out on a street that reminded me of a street in a southern town, in a house with a home-like atmosphere last Saturday. Save one incident, which for a while gave me misgivings, I enjoyed one of the most enjoyable parties, one of the cleanest parties I have attended this year. On one occasion at a party, lighting trickled down a chandelier over a table at which we sat, spurted its fiery sparks and out went the lights, at another party as I sat down to a table of eats, the lights ceased to glow, and naturally when I sat down in Mr. Tucker's home in McDougal St. and the lights said farewell, I felt somewhat apprehensive; was the "curse of the missing glow" following me around, however the energetic Mr. Tucker soon repaired the lights and the party rolled on.

The party was really a meeting of The Lilly Club, of the Eli Lilly Mfg. Co., preparing their winter program. The evening was spent in short talks, by Mr. Clifford Wilson, Mr. Samuel Johnson, and other members of the club, and by Mr. Patton of California, Mr. John A. Patton, Mr. F. E. DeFrantz and the writer. The President, Mr. Adams, set forth the activities of the club, and told some very good animal stories, which I will write at another time. Then Mr. Tucker set before us a tasty luncheon. Mr. Martin asked the blessing thus: "Arise Peter slay and eat." The opening song was, "Throw him out the window", and we continued to throw him out the window, until Mr. DeFrantz refusing to let me walk one block, threw me out by my shance, at the hour of—well I'll see Brother Patton and let you know. Thanks to the boys of the Lilly Club, the only organization of its kind in the city, from the only firm of its kind in the city.

Bedtime Story

SNICKLES AND SNORTLES

"What shall we do?" chattered Pee Wee. "We cannot get on his back from the ground."
"We'll each hold one of his ears and lead him until we find a fence or a stump," said Snortles. "In beginning to believe that our adventure has been a failure." He sneezed again and Pee Wee did the same.

It seemed that they walked along way before they came to a fence with a road on the other side. Even then, they followed the fence a long way before they found a gate leading into the road. When at last they started down the road they were weary and almost frozen. They rode and rode and rode. They had lost their direction, but they followed the road, hoping it would lead them back to town. Little Jumbo lagged as if he, too, were tired.

"There are some trees," said Pee Wee. "I declare it looks like an orchard."

"That means nothing to me," said Snortles.

"It means food to me," said Pee Wee. Some nice ripe apples would taste pretty fine first now."

"Well, I won't—A-chew!—go into another orchard at night as long as I live," said Snortles.

"You stay with Jumbo, then and I'll go." The dwarf slipped down and went cautiously into the shadows of the orchard. Soon he was turned with his pockets bulging.

"I found a lot of big apples," he said. "Want one?"

"No, I've decided that it isn't right to steal other people's fruit, and so I'll not eat any, thank you. Pee Wee was chewing industriously, but he stopped and started at his companion thoughtfully. At last he spat the apple form his mouth.

"They're green and awfully sour, anyhow," he said. He removed the apples from his pockets and placed them in a heap beneath the road. Little Jumbo's trunk reached out toward the apples and he sniffed. The trunk picked up an apple and carried it to Jumbo's mouth.

"We'd better not let him eat them," said Snortles. "Elephants are tough. They won't hurt him."

I VISIT THE SCOTTSBORO BOYS

When I got to the door the guard grabbed me and took me to the captain. I asked: "What's this for?" and the captain said, "You'll find out in a minute what it's all about." The captain said: "What nigger did you want to see?" I was not sure I heard him, and I said: "Huh?"

"Who the Hell you saying 'huh' to?" he shouted.

"I said: 'I want to see Roy Wright.'"

"You get out of town," the officer shouted, "and don't you ever come back here."

"But what's this for?" I asked. He half rose in his chair. "Git!" he said venomously.

I left, and walked about in the rain for a while. The Negro stool pigeon was following me. Later I joined the Wright sisters at our appointed meeting place, and learned that they had been permitted only five minutes with their brother. The guards had told them that the crowd was so large they had better come back later. When they came back they were not admitted. I organized a few meetings in Birmingham and then returned to Chattanooga.

There I was shadowed all afternoon by a plain clothes man. I managed to duck him, and finally went to the office of the I. L. D., where I had been long expected. They were greatly excited to see me, and told me that the chief of the "Red Squad" had been to see Mrs. Williams, and had told her he knew this "Nigger Red" was in town, and that if he didn't look out they would find his dead body in the streets.

I learned from some Negro acquaintance that Ruby Bates and Victoria Price were in town, and could be found on the "Island." This island stands in the river, some distance from town, and is a refuge for escaped criminals, a haven for bootleggers, and an as signation place for whites and Negroes of both sexes, who mingle there without prejudice and without being molested. The police never go there, and when I went there in search of the two girls, I saw a Negro there, escaped from the chain gang, with the chains still dangling from one leg. He had not had a chance to remove them entirely.

I did not find the Bates or the Price girl. They had been there, and had left. Returning to shore, I spoke to a Negro woman who said she had seen the two of them. She had asked them if they were the two white girls of the Scottsboro case, and they had admitted frankly that they were. They were dressed in overalls, and told her they were going to beat their way to Memphis. The Bates girl was so ragged the seat of her overalls was almost entirely out.

PARTY REGULARITY

By KELLY MILLER

Heresy is the antithesis of dogma. Wherever there is a boy of fixed belief or doctrine, religious or political, which is passionately held by its devotees, any deviation therefrom is always denounced by the bigot. Orthodoxy used to be considered the crowning virtue; heterodoxy the crowning vice, but the world today is happily liberated from dogma and bigotry. Non-Aristocracy, Roosevelt, Taft, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover. His last state is certainly worse than the first. The present day Republican Party has lost its ancient appeal which compelled allegiance. Its present day representatives have no more moral or political kinship to Lincoln, Sumner and Stevens than the present day Greek shoe shiner has to their ancient and illustrious ancestry.

We live at a time when political loyalties are discarded all over the world. The generation of moss backs and die-hard politicians is rapidly becoming extinct. In 1928 the Democratic Party was split as under by internal disaffection. The poll of the Literary Digest disclosed that thirty to forty per cent of the Roosevelt vote are bolters from the Hoover column. Of course there always will be found a calse of political manipulators who preach party regularity as a means of keeping themselves in position and power. The Negro knuckle close and never-die Republicans do not serve the G. O. P. for ought.

I dare say that every Negro clamored of the doctrine of never deviating devotion to the Grand Old Party is either on the pay roll or is inequity of position, compensation, or some other form of personal reward. "Great is Diana of the Ephesians" cried the craftsmen who made images. Idol makers will never destroy idolatry, and so our political profiteers will never break the strange hold of political bondage which holds us back.

But the day of the Non-Partisan League pointed out the way, and pointed the way out. Never again can the Republican Party control the Negro vote through the dead hand of a spent force. As many Negroes will cast their votes for Roosevelt as for Hoover. I should hate to see the race irretrievably bound to the one or the other. No longer does any one stigmatize him with op

"But they are not our apples. They belong to somebody else."

"Well, it's too late now, for he has eaten them all," answered the dwarf. "Give me a hand up."

They started down the road again, wishing they were home in their warm beds. Up hill and down hill they went, but still there were no signs of the town.

"Oh dear," sobbed Snortles. "Why did we ever come!"

"There's something the matter with little Jumbo!" shouted Pee Wee. Get off, quick!"

They slid from his back, and he lay down, groaning. He rolled over and groaned again, putting out his trunk toward the boys, as if begging for comfort. "Ah-oong," he groaned most pathetically.

"It must be the green apples," said Snortles. "What shall we do?"

Advised Her of Remedy

Mrs. Florence Swain of New Rochelle, New York, wants to tell her friends of a recent bad experience which she feels many other people are going through, and how to get rid of the condition. Read what Mrs. Swain, who is well known in New Rochelle, says: "For a long time I was feeling very low-down and sluggish and just didn't seem to be able to get up in the morning I always felt drowsy. I tried everything to get rid of this condition. I bought a lot of stuff, but it just didn't seem to do any good."

used to have went away, and I was as full of life as my young ones. I noticed with joy that my skin started clearing up too, now it is just as clear as a baby's. I can't say too much for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and want to thank this newspaper for the opportunity to tell my friends about it."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a standard family medicine, is recommended as a delightful laxative. This standard old medicine can be taken by children with perfect safety as well as by adults. It cleanses the system, driving out poisonous matter that fouls the bloodstream, it clears up ugly blotches and pimples, treating facial eruptions from the inside, by removing the body poisons which cause them is more effective than rubbing some preparations on the outside.

If your own skin is muddy and broken out, or you are out of sorts and bilious, get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin today at any drug store.

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

SENATOR JAMES E. WATSON

Not only has he gained the interest and admiration of the surrounding community, but he has won the co-operation necessary to eradicate a strong opposing race prejudice. By means of speeches, letters and diplomacy, he has won conciliation, understanding, confidence. True to Senator Watson's prophecy, this Indiana man has carried on with his wonderful leadership and has placed the hospital in the fore rank of institutions of similar kind in the world, and in recognition of such an achievement, one of our greatest universities recently conferred upon him the degree of doctor of laws for excellence in administration of the Veterans' hospital, Tuskegee, Ala.

LUDLOW DRAWS PRAISE IN, OUT OF CONGRESS

Seventh Indiana District Representative Staunch of Colored Citizens

Louis Ludlow, Democratic member of the national House of Representatives from the 7th Indiana district, and a candidate for re-election, is constantly being referred to in campaign speeches as one of the most useful members that ever served in the United States law-making body. The common expression in regard to Representative Ludlow that he "does things." And it is common knowledge that the men whom he works daily in Washington marvel at the close attention he gives to the affairs of his office, never failing to strive to oblige and serve to the best of his ability all who need his help.

It is needless to say that Congressman Ludlow is, and always has been popular with colored people because of his consistent manifested friendship toward the group.

Friend of Race

Another well known fact is reflected in the circumstance that Congressman Ludlow is on record as having always been, still is, and always will be a staunch believer in the enforcement of the constitution "regardless of race, creed or color."

What is more, the Seventh Indiana district representative is equally a believer in protecting members of the group in its political, economic and civic rights under the law.
